ARBOR DAY EXERCISES CELEBRATED TOMORROW

Honorary Senior Fraternities to Pledge New Members

PLANT SENIOR TREE

The annual Arbor Day exercises when the senior tree will be planted, and the pledging ceremonies of Lamp and Cross and Staff and Crown, honorary senior fraternities, will take place Friday morning on the campus of the University. President McVey has declared a holiday during the fourth hour in honor of the occasion.

The tree to be planted by the class of 1918 will be dedicated to Judge W. T. Lafferty, dean of the College of Law. Young Clark was a member of the '16 class from the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, and was employed in the works of the Buffalo Forge Company before his enlistment.

NAVAL APPOINTMENT FOR 1916 GRADUATE

E. H. Clark, graduate of the University, who has been in training at Camp Dewey, Great Lakes, Ill., for service with the navy for the past month, has been selected for entrance into the Naval Academy at Annapolis for training for the Naval Officers' Reserve, it was stated in a telegram received yesterday by the young man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clark, of 118 Bassett Court.

Young Clark was a member of the '16 class from the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, and was employed in the works of the Buffalo Forge Company before his enlistment.

PHILOSOPHIAN TO GIVE MANLESS PLAY MAY 17

"You Never Can Tell" Is Play Chosen For Production

STROLLERS IN LEAD

"You Never Can Tell." Shaw! Is it a mystery? Oh, no, only a Shaw play, to be given by the Philosophian Literary Society with an all-star cast, under the direction of Mrs. Sallie Bullock Cave, of the Lexington College of Music, May 17, at the Opera House.

It is one of the most important features of the Philosophian's yearly program to present a play. Great care has been exercised this year to select a play which will appeal to the most fastidious as well as those who wish merely to be entertained. In "You Never Can Tell," George Bernard Shaw is at his best, charming his readers; now as the most serious of writers, now as the most inimitable jester, combining philosophy with sparkling wit and subtle humor in an amazingly versatile manner.

Since the Philosophian Literary Society is a woman's organization, and only members are eligible to the casts of its plays, it will be necessary for women to take men's parts. But why not? These are "manless" days, and surely the fair sex have shown their ability to rise to the occasion whenever there is necessity.

The story is delightful. Mrs. Lanfrey Clandon, a twentieth century mother who has become famous as the author of treatises on twentieth century women, after spending eighteen years in Madiera, whither she has fled after being divorced from her husband, returns to England with her interesting family, brought up on the advanced ideas of their mother.

Gloria, "whom she has educated to take up her work where she, Mrs. Clandon, left," and Polly and Phil, the twins, who are brimming over

TECHNICAL TRAINING OF TENNESSEANS IS BEGUN

Camp Buell is Ready—Univ. is Ready—Uniforms Lacking

MEN PLEASE OFFICERS

Four hundred drafted men of Tennessee arrived Tuesday to begin their three months' intensive technical training at the University for immediate service in France; Lexington again has become the guardian of an army camp and the University of Kentucky an army instructor.

Before dawn, news of the time of arrival of the different contingents of selectives was heralded by telegrams from the local boards of Tennessee addressed to Captain Royden, and throughout the day, telegrams announcing the route and number of men forming the contingent was received.

With the arrival of the first telegram announcing that fifty men were due in Lexington at 6:45 via the Southern Railroad, Headley Shouse, student captain and commanding officer of Company A, doing guard duty, sent a sergeant with three privates to meet the contingent. From that time on, every train from the South bore a number of Tennesseeans, who, smiling and jubilant, passed along the streets of Lexington, blocked with citizens, welcoming them.

Immediately upon arrival, each group was conducted to the Fair Grounds, now camp Buell, authorized army camp of the United States, where they were examined for contagious diseases by Lieutenant M. S. Fletcher, the medical officer stationed at the camp. Lieut. Fletcher is awaiting the arrival of serums before he can inoculate them.

Because of the unexpected arrival of the larger number of the men, the officers in charge were not prepared to serve the first meal hot, but a sufficient supply of sandwiches, pickles, cheese and other edibles, characteristic of picnics, were provided, which lent a happy hour's enjoyment to the hungry men, many of whom had had nothing to eat since they left their homes in the early morning. At night,

DEEREAX PLAYERS IN CHAPEL TUESDAY

Chapel, Tuesday evening!! The Devereux players!!!

Under the auspices of the English Club, "Ghosts" will be presented by Clifford Devereux and company in chapel Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock and the proceeds will be given to the Red Cross.

Those who have seen these well-known players will not fail to be interested. Tickets will be on sale Friday at the Post Office and may also be purchased from any of the members of the club.

STAFF FOR 1918-19 TO PUBLISH LAST KERNEL

Next week's issue of The Kernel will be published as usual, but not by the same staff for following the election of editor-in-chief, assistant editor and business manager by the Kernel Board, which will probably meet today for this purpose, for the collegiate year 1918-19, the newly elected editor-in-chief will appoint the rest of his editorial staff and his reportorial staff, and will with the force, issue Kernel "No. 30" of "Vol. X."

For the last several years it has been the custom of the editor for the subsequent year to appoint and assemble his staff, and publish the last issue of the current year.

M'VEY'S INSTALLATION TO TAKE PLACE JUNE 4

Ninety-One Graduates Will Receive Diplomas June 5

BROCK WILL BE HERE

The program for commencement week at the University will begin with the baccalaureate sermon to be given at the Auditorium Sunday afternoon, June 2, at 3 o'clock, by Dr. Charles W. Welch, pastor of the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian church in Louisville, and will be concluded with the alumni luncheon at the cafeteria Wednesday afternoon, June 5.

The installation of Dr. Frank L. Rond McVey as president of the University will be the feature of the program Tuesday, June 4, and on that occasion C. R. Brock, Denver, Col., president of the Alumni Association, will be present to represent the organization.

Ninety-one Graduates.

Ninety-one graduates will receive diplomas at commencement exercises, which will be held on the campus Wednesday, June 5, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. A large tent will be pitched in front of the main building and the exercises will be held in it.

Invitations to deliver the commencement address have been extended to Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo and John Lind, former ambassador to Mexico. Owing to pressing business Mr. McAdoo was forced to decline and Mr. Lind has not been heard from.

Wartime Simplicity.

Notwithstanding the small size of the graduating class the commencement procession will be unusually long, for the entire staff of the department of general administration of the University will be included. Commencement is one day earlier this year than usual, and the entire week will be marked by wartime simplicity.

Otherwise, this commencement will not be unlike those of former years.

NEW BOARD ADOPTS ALL M'VEY'S SUGGESTIONS

New Departments and Instructors to be Added Next Year.

MANY CHANGES MADE

The Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky met at the call of Governor Stanley at the University at 11 a.m. Wednesday. The following members were present: Governor Stanley, Senator H. H. Frohman, Ghent, J. M. Elliston, Elliston, P. P. Johnston, Jr., Lexington, Irvine Lyle, New York, R. C. Stoll, Lexington, R. G. Gordon, Louisville, R. P. Ernst, Covington, Rainey T. Wells, Murray, J. W. Turner, Paintsville, Honorable V. O. Gilbert, Honorable Matt Cohen, and President F. L. McVey.

The meeting was called to order by R. C. Stoll in the temporary absence of Governor Stanley and the board proceeded to organize by electing the following officers: R. C. Stoll vice chairman, Wellington Parick, Secretary, and John R. Downing, Treasurer.

On report of a nominating committee, the following members were elected on the executive committee: R. C. Stoll, P. P. Johnston, Jr., R. G. Gordon, R. P. Ernst, and J. M. Elliston. Mr. Patrick succeeds Mr. Grehan on the latter's request that he be relieved to give all his time to the Department of Journalism.

The President made a report to the board consisting of a resume of what is going on at the University at the present time. He reviewed (1) the financial situation at the University, indicating that the University will receive from the State this year more than $200,000 in excess of that of last year. The income from the State and Federal Government to the University will be approximately $450,000 from the General Fund. The Experiment Station will receive from the State and Government $185,000. The Extension fund from the State and Government will amount to $199,617.22. The Public Health fund will add $18,000, and $42,000 will be received from the Government for special training of the men now at Camp Buell.

The total estimated income for the University and Experiment Station, including Extension work, Public Health work, and military training of drafted men will be approximately $940,000.

The President indicated in a general way what the University expects to accomplish in the way of construction for the coming year. Owing to difficulties in securing necessary labor and building material, the building program for the coming year will be curtailed. It will be confined to the repairing of a few buildings, including the possible construction of a third floor above the rear of Patterson Hall; the rejuvenation of the dormitories for men; a new shed for mechanical engineering; the repair of the chapel in the Administration Building; the erection of a temporary live stock pavilion, the building of an abattoir; the construction of a temporary home for Home Economics, and the construction of heating plants adequate to take care of the situation at the present time. President McVey indicated that owing to the war, it would be out of the question at the present time to consider a heating plant such as has been previously discussed.

The President reported to the board that acting under the authorization of the Executive Committee he had secured the services of Olmsted Brothers of Brookline, Massachusetts, the foremost landscape architects of the country to make plans for the campus, and recommended that Mr. Arthur Cooledge of Boston, be secured as an advisory architect to work jointly with Olmsted Brothers.

The President stated to the board that he had been strongly urged recently to consolidate with the University the schools of medicine and dentistry at Louisville. He indicated that he had discussed the matter with Dr. Henry S. Pritchett of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, Dr. Flexnor, of the Rockefeller Institute, and Dr. John G. Bolling, secretary of the American Institute of Medicine, and had come to the conclusion that if anything is done regarding the consolidation of these institutions with the University, it should be done with the full knowledge and consent of the State Legislature.

A financial statement in the form of a budget was presented to the board by the President for consideration and after discussion was adopted by the board as a tentative working basis for the coming year.

On recommendation of the President, the board created seven new departments in the University: Departments of Art and Design, Music, Zoology, Economics and Sociology, Ancient Languages and Literatures, and Bacteriology. The Department of Botany was transferred from the Experiment Station to the College of Liberal Arts.

On recommendation of the President the following new members of the faculty were added in connection with these departments:

Dr. C. A. Schull head of the Department of Botany. Dr. Schull is now at the University of Kansas, and has the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Cornell.

Dr. Edward Wiest, now at the University of Vermont, was appointed as head of the Department of Economics and Sociology.

Dr. C. B. Cornell of the University of Nebraska was appointed Assistant Professor of Education.

Professor E. C. Mable was appointed Assistant Professor of English.

Dr. W. D. Funkhauser was appointed as head of the Department of Zoology. Dr. Funkhauser has his doctor's degree from Cornell.

Professor Carl Lampert was appointed head of the Department of Music. Dr. Glanville Terrell head of the Department of Greek was transferred to the head of the Department of Philosophy.

In Physical Education, Mr. Andrew Gill was appointed as head coach. Miss Florence M. Barrett, M. A. (Chicago) was appointed instructor in Spanish.

Professor W. L. Summers, J. D., now Professor of Law at the University

NUMEROUS ALARMS KEEP CADETS ON GUARD BUSY

Prisoners Captured on Campus and Kept All Night.

MIDNIGHT RAID MADE

A midnight raid on the enemy, the capture of three prisoners and a camp bonfire, inspiring songs, reminiscences and tales of adventure, were the features of the twenty-four hours guard duty done by one of the five companies last week.

Mounting guard at 2:30, with its six squads and officers all present, this company, took over the arduous guard duty and at 3:30, the following afternoon, it was relieved, each man, satisfied with his day's work. The company was unusually congenial, spirited and eager for work. Each man willingly assumed whatever post was assigned him, diligently and seriously walking his beat in the regulation manner.

From the moment the first sentinel was posted at Kastle Walk, interest arose and increased until sleep was impossible and each man sat up wide-eyed and excited, eager for a call to arms.

About 9:30, the call, "corporal of the Guard, number 7, was sounded from the fountain and a relief accompanied by the corporal of the guard, rushed to post 7 to catch sight of three men fleeing across the campus.

A chase followed down Limestone, and with the aid of two plain clothes men, three men were caught, brought back by the guard and tried. One man was found innocent, but the other two were placed in the guard house where they remained all night. Not many minutes later, a call was sounded from post 9. A relief rushed to that point found that the sentinel had wrestled with a negro who tried to run the lines. Extreme caution was advised and each guard walked his beat alertly.

Back in camp, around a huge log fire, were gathered the boys of the campus, officers bunking with buck privates in the cots which circled the fire, all singing happily, regardless of quality of voice or harmony.

Suddenly the harmony of voices was broken by the sudden alarm of guard number 9, calling "The guard." Immediately, the men rolled from their cots, sprung to arms, and the guard was formed. Detachments were sent down Winslow, across the campus encircling the Old Dorm, and directly to the post. A band of negroes from Winslow had assembled, loaded with rocks to get revenge for the attack on one of their number. They were chased away and order was restored. The rest of the night was spent in sleeping and watching the sun rise. The twenty-four hours were thoroughly enjoyed.

NEW SWEATERS EXCITE ENVY

Basketball sweaters for both girls and boys' teams have arrived. Each team voted to have white sweaters with blue letters and they are as beautiful in appearance as they are efficacious in exciting envy.

of Florida, was appointed Professor of Law.

The board fixed June 4 as the date for formal installation of President McVey. This program is yet to be arranged.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN HEAD OUTLINES WORK

John R. Downing, chairman of the Kentucky Red Cross campaign, spoke in chapel Wednesday morning. Mr. Downing, who is the treasurer of this University, and cashier of the Phoenix and Third National Bank, gave a detailed explanation of the organization of the Kentucky campaign from its incipiency, when he was called from Louisville by long distance phone and requested to accept the chairmanship for all Kentucky, to two days ago when he was ready to report to the national headquarters that Kentucky was ready for the second Red Cross drive of the year, which will start the last part of this month.

Mr. Downing explained the immense volume of work that so great a drive will entail, and read the names of the executive committee he has appointed from every section of the State to aid him in this work. After the appointment of committees the work of dividing the quota of $900,000, which has been allotted to Kentucky, among the counties of the State, was accomplished, with the appointment of a chairman in each county. This took about three weeks to accomplish. Everything has been arranged now, however, except for the appointing of some of the women's committees, all is in readiness for the big drive.

Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE ON KENTUCKY RIVER

Twelve University men, including Secretary Johnson and three professors represented the University Y. M. C. A. at the one-day conference held Saturday at Camp Daniel Boone on the Kentucky River. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss plans for the coming year and to create more enthusiasm for the bigger part the Y. M. C. A. is going to have in this country from now on.

Those present from the University were: Secretary J. E. Johnson, Professor C. R. Melcher, Professor Karaker, Professor W. E. Freeman, J. W. Lindsay, R. E. Davis, W. D. Thompson, E. R. Gregg, J. P. Barnes, John Duncan and Jesse Tapp. The principle speakers of the occasion were Doctor Ganfield, Doctor Fortune and Doctor Bush.

The meeting was one of the first of its kind ever held by the Y. M. C. A. of the State colleges and was said to be very successful. Another meeting of this kind will be held the last Saturday of next September. Sixty men from the various colleges of Kentucky attended the conference.

BOYD VICE PRESIDENT OF STATE SCIENTISTS

Dr. J. E. Banton, Kentucky State Forester, was elected president, and Dr. Paul P. Boyd, Dean of the College of Arts and Science, vice-president of the Kentucky Academy of Science, which held its fifth annual meeting in the Physics Building, Saturday, May 4. Other officers elected were: Dr. Alfred Peter, Secretary, and J. S. McHargue, treasurer, both of the University.

President McVey and Dean Thomas Cooper were elected new members of the organization. Several University professors were on the program which filled the morning session. The afternoon session was featured by the election of officers and an address by Dr. J. A. Detlefsen, of the Department of Genetics, University of Illinois, on the subject, "Laws Governing the Transmission of Characters from Parent to Offspring."

MAN FROM MISSOURI HAS GOOD YEAR HERE

At a meeting of the Patterson Literary Society Friday night plans were laid for the last meeting of the year, which will be held at the home of the president Walter C. Piper on the Versailles pike. Officers for the next semester will be elected then. The date of the meeting will be announced later.

Members of the Union Literary Society are invited to the meeting and plans for the coming year will be discussed. It is expected that this meeting will advance the efficiency of the organizations, as both societies are anxious that all members attend.

The program Friday night was featured by a debate on the question, "Resolved that the Allies should invite Japan to act against Germany's invasion of Russia." A tribute to the society and Kentucky was paid by Eldon Bummitt, who left for Missouri Monday afternoon. He said the year he has spent in Kentucky and with the Patterson society, he regards as the most profitable year of his life. Walter Piper delivered Henry Wadsworth's "Lincoln."

CATS IN TWO GAMES LAST PART OF WEEK

The Wildcats are slated to play two games this week. They meet Kentucky Wesleyan Thursday afternoon on Stoll Field and Georgetown Saturday on the home field.

Wesleyan has bowed to the Wildcats once and the Tigers of Georgetown have been scratched twice by the same cats. The Kentucky players are expecting to "pull" two perfect repeaters in the games for this week. The contests will be spicy and full of pep, however.

McClellan will start against Wesleyan Thursday afternoon with Thomas catching. This battery has played well all season and will make itself felt. Lasley will pitch against Georgetown.

JACKIE TEAM WANTS TO USE STOLL FIELD

S. A. Boles, director of athletics, received a letter from the manager of the baseball team at the Great Lakes Training Station this week asking for a contract to use Stoll Field for ten days' training period for the team of Jackies.

On account of the presence of the 400 soldiers and the consequent heavier use of the field, it was necessary to refuse the offer. The matter was referred to the secretary of the Board of Commerce, who will try to find a park suitable for training.

ADDITIONAL U. K. MEN TO GET COMMISSIONS

Eight more University of Kentucky men have been recommended for commissions as second lieutenants from the Third Training Camp, according to information received this week. Two of this number were omitted from the Camp Zachary Taylor list published last week, and the other five are recommended from Camp Stanley, Leon Springs, Texas.

Those omitted from the Camp Zachary Taylor list are: Jack Howard, Clem Kelly, Jesse Shuff, former students of the College of Law. From Camp Stanley are: Edwin M. Cobb, Richmond, Infantry; Paul L. Cocke, Louisville, Field Artillery; George A. Hillsman, Livermore, Infantry; Ben F. Lancaster, Newcastle, Infantry, and William K. Staton, Brooksville, Infantry.

U. K. MAN "OVER THERE" READY FOR HUN ATTACKGerman Dead Form Bridge For Advancing British*5 PRISONERS ESCAPE

Emery Wells, a graduate of the University, now a first Lieutenant of Engineers with the American army in France has written an interesting letter to his parents Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Wells, Woodland avenue.

Lieutenant Wells' letter in part is as follows:

"Somewhere in France,
April 15, 1918.

"My Dear Mother and Father:

"I have a detail of sixty regular men in my department and am kept busy. I have been on duty continuously for the past 48 hours; I have charge of the barracks, which includes thirteen different types of buildings.

"My largest day's work was unloading 107 cars of material and loading fifteen others for shipment. My 'stock of goods' is valued approximately at a million dollars.

"I was talking to a captain of engineers today who had just come from the Amiens territory. He said he could stand on a ridge and see the German shells coming and going, and in spite of all the horror of it, it was the most interesting sight he ever witnessed. The gunners were about five miles away.

"The large German airplanes, he said, flew over the town every night like swarms of bees, each carrying six bombs weighing 200 pounds apiece. Finally one of the searchlights would locate an airplane and then the aircraft guns would be turned on it. This captain saw two of the German planes thus shot down.

"The Germans, I think, have advanced as far as they can, but at what cost. I have heard they lost 500,000 men. One man, a captain of the medical corps, who was here a few days ago, said he saw German dead in many places three and four deep. At another place where the Germans were crossing a branch in close formation, the British opened fire and the branch was actually damned up by bodies of the dead so that the men following behind walked across on their packed bodies. The English gunners were actually made sick killing these troops.

"We have a large force of German prisoners here. Five of them escaped last week but we soon recaptured them. It is a long way for the German army to reach us, but if it comes we are ready for it."

CHATTANOOGA NAILED FOR TURKY DAY GAME

Next year's Wildcats will probably play the University of Chattanooga here Thanksgiving Day.

They are called the Moccasins and have met nearly all the big teams of the South. In 1915 they held the mighty Tennessee team to a score of 14 to 7, and kept Washington and Jefferson to a small score. Coach Boles is trying to get as stiff a schedule as possible for the Wildcats as he believes Kentucky is in for a season of football that will rival any of the palmy days of yore.

SAVE YOUR TINFOIL

WINS FIRST A. A. GAME

After pitching in practice to the Wildcats whom he completely bewildered Jim Park has joined the Columbus, Ohio, team of the American Association, where he seems to have repeated the stunt.

In his first game with the big league team, played against Indianapolis, Park showed up well. He held the Indiana team to three hits and he himself drove a hit that brought in the winning run for his own team. This is an auspicious beginning and Jim's friends are all tickled at his prospects for the season. He will leave the Columbus team sometime in June to train for the air service of the United States army.

FORMER STUDENT ON TUSCANIA

Carl B. Pennybacker, New Haven, Ky., a student in the old "Prep School" of the University, was on the Tuscania, which was torpedoed and sunk last month. He was first reported lost but has since written, to his family, of his safe arrival in England, according to a letter from his mother to the Registrar. Pennybacker is now with the Aero Squadron in England.

ROBERTSON WRITES FROM "OVER THERE"

A letter received recently by William Lindsay, senior in the College of Arts and Science, from Elmer K. Robertson, a student in the University last year, who is now in active service in France, contains some interesting pictures of his life and trip "over there."

Corporal Robertson wrote the letter from an old monastery in which the men were housed. He said the walls of the building were five feet thick, and it is believed to have held 5,000 monks at one time.

Corporal Robertson commends highly the work the Y. M. C. A. is doing in France, and urges college men to take up this branch of service. Of his voyage over he says:

"Boy! You have no idea what emotions and moods one passes thru on the trip over. I don't believe I have ever appreciated nature quite so much as I have when lying on deck with life preserver on, ready to go over. Quite a little time is spent that way too."

As a word of caution and advice Robertson adds: "Come over if you can. The water is good and very soft. Advise all your friends who are about to make the trip to carry all the fruit and Uneeda Biscuit possible, for I have seen them sold for ten times their ordinary price. I hope many U. K. men will get in their places in this war, for it's a great cause and we must win."

OFF WITH THE OLD; ON WITH THE NEW

There is satisfaction in service well performed. The laborer digs a ditch; if he knows that he has dug a good ditch he is personally satisfied with his efforts. The general gives an order; if it is a wise order and brings fruitful results, he, also, is personally satisfied with his efforts.

Student activities at the University offer, perhaps several, but surely one example strikingly analogous to the foregoing illustrations. The staff of the Kernel, from the managing editor to the last acquired "cub" reporter, has faithfully performed its every duty in a pleasing and satisfactory manner during the length of time the editor has had the honor of being associated with it in his present capacity. If it is bold to presume that the student body is as well satisfied as the editor is with the efforts that these young women and men have made to produce every week a publication creditable to the institution, often at the personal sacrifice of time which they needed for other purposes, the writer humbly begs the pardon of the reader and admits his presumption. However, if on the other hand, the student body and the faculty agree that the news columns of the Kernel have been well written and copy and proof-read, the Kernel, in behalf of the student body and the faculty, publicly thanks the entire staff for the service it has rendered the University.

This is probably the last Kernel that will be issued under the auspices of the present management and by the present staff. Next week, when, following custom, the staff for next year will get out the last Kernel of the present year, new names will appear at the top of this column and, on next Thursday, others will have the satisfaction of having got out the Kernel, the felicitation of seeing their writings in print, but today, you read the same names that have been opposite managing editor, "squirrel food," feature editor, reporters, etc., during the entire year.

It is possible that some members will be re-elected or re-appointed for next year. Others have completed their work on the Kernel, the most prominent of whom and the one whose place will be most difficult to fill is the managing editor, who has worked untiringly and given unspuriously of her time in the effort to publish a creditable paper each week. Among other things told us in first-year journalism, was that "The managing editor is the person most important in a newspaper organization." The work done in the past year by the present managing editor, we believe, convincingly confirms this statement.

For those who have written their last stories for the Kernel, for those who have read their last copy and proof and made up their last paper, then, there is the after-satisfaction of service well performed.

WELCOME SOLDIERS

The contingent of selectives, from Tennessee, which will receive several months mechanical and technical training at this University, has arrived, approximately four-hundred strong. These men, the requisites of whose entrance into the branch of service with which they are connected took into consideration intelligence and education, are of the finest caliber. The Kernel, therefore, as official publication of the University, sincerely welcomes both men and officers as a gratifying, tho temporary, addition to University life.

WAR COMMITTEE WILL HAVE QUESTION BOX

The war education lectures next week will follow the same general plan of those given before with a slight variation in speakers.

Captain Royden will continue his series of talks on the "German Attack," on Monday, Wednesday, Dean F. Paul Anderson will speak on "Scientific Aspects of the war." Dr. J. J. Tigert will explain "Recent German Philosophy" Thursday.

The War Committee has decided to place a question box in the Main Building immediately outside the University postoffice, in which students may put any matter relating to the war which they should like to have answered. These questions whether signed or not will be discussed at a chapel period devoted to them. If the questions are signed personal attention with suggested readings can be given.

CATS TO PLAY FIVE GAMES BEFORE JUNE

The Wildcats are near the end of their schedule with five games yet to be played. The season closes May 26.

One more game will be played here with the Tigers of Georgetown, two will be played with Maryville College, at Maryville, Tenn., May 15 and 16. Two games with the University of Tennessee at Knoxville will close the season.

Kentucky has reason to be proud of her team this year. The infield has been especially ready at all times and never has a pitcher had to groan for support in winning his games. The usual number of errors has been committed, but on the whole the team has measured up. Slugging has kept pace with fielding and there are several notable cases where players have really distinguished themselves in this line.

BOOKS OF ALL KINDS CHARGING "NOBLE 600"

Fiction, non-fiction, technical and war books are being "drafted" and rushed to the camp at the Fair Grounds where a very attractive and comfortable Y. M. C. A. room awaits them. Bunks have been arranged for them and six hundred Tennessee men who are arriving on all roads from the South will put them thru some very intensive training for the next four weeks.

About seven hundred books have already been contributed. These were left after the book drive for Kentucky had been completed. Many popular magazines have been contributed and the University library has subscribed for twenty technical magazines to be used at the camp. The American Library Association for war service has sent fifty volumes of technical books, but they have not yet arrived.

There will be a committee of the University Woman's Club unit of the Red Cross which will arrange the books, magazines and papers and will keep them up to date and "shipshape." Daily papers of Lexington and the larger Tennessee cities will be found on the racks and war books are rapidly being gathered and sent.

After evening mess and before "taps" will be the time when these drafted and enlisted books will get their training. If you have books to contribute give them to the Lexington Library for the boys or hand them to Miss King, University Librarian.

SHINNICK IN FRANCE AFTER SAFE VOYAGE

Lieutenant William Shinnick, president of last year's Senior class, editor of The Kernel, and one of the most prominent men ever in the University, has arrived safely "over there," according to messages received by friends this week.

Lieutenant Shinnick sailed from Newport News, where he had been stationed for several months, three weeks ago. He was commissioned at the second training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. The message did not say where he was, but the supposition is that he is in France.

Lieutenant Shinnick was a prominent Stroller, a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, Lamp and Cross, an honor graduate, an orator of unusual ability and a general all-round college man.

GILMORE SAVED WHEN SHIP IS TORPEDOED

Charles R. Gilmore, class of 1914, a student well remembered here by members of the faculty and classmates, was a passenger on the steamship "Oronsa," torpedoed and sunk off the coast of England on April 28, according to information received here by friends. Mr. Gilmore, was saved.

He was on his way to France at the time to take up war Y. M. C. A. work at the front. Mr. Gilmore is a native of Somerset, but for the last several years had been living at Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he was for some time assistant postmaster and later was connected with one of the large oil and gas producing companies of Oklahoma.

The Tulsa Daily World of April 30 prints an excellent likeness of Mr. Gilmore, together with a half column account of his escape when his ship was torpedoed.

MOTHERS' DAY THEME FOR THURSDAY CHAPEL

Speaker Urges Students to Write Their Mothers This Week

McVEY TELLS OF TRIP

Dr. A. W. Fortune, of Transylvania University, and President McVey made brief talks in chapel Tuesday morning. Doctor Fortune took the approaching Mothers' Day for his subject, and paid a beautiful tribute to the mothers throughout the country. Doctor McVey, who had just returned from a ten day visit to Washington and New York, gave an outline of the changes which the last four months has brought about in those cities.

Doctor Fortune made mention of the origin of the custom of observing Mothers' Day, saying that it had been introduced into this country in 1910, while in 1914, the Congress of the United States set aside the second Sunday in May to be celebrated. This year, he said, it means more than it has ever meant, since within the last twelve months a million mothers have said goodbye to their sons who left for training camps or the front, and these sons, whether in trenches or camps, have the thought of their mothers uppermost in their minds.

"While mother means more to the soldier than anyone else, Mothers' Day," he said, "should mean more to the student group than any other." By way of comment on the devotion of mothers, he read the now famous Captain McHenry letter, Kipling's "Mother o' Mine," and spoke of several men famous in the history of the world who said that they owed all their greatness to their mothers.

In closing, Doctor Fortune urged his hearers to write to their mothers—a real love message—before Sunday, and send some little token of affection; and above all, to resolve to make themselves worthy of the prayers, devotion, and ideals of the faithful women who wait for them at home. That the audience was touched was evidenced by many wet eyes and repentant looks, and doubtless many Kentucky mothers will be made happy by new proof of the appreciation and devotion of their sons and daughters within the week.

In speaking of the change in Washington, Doctor McVey said that altho in December the town had been in a "blue funk," discouraged, disorderly and overflowing with the influx of new employees, it was now nearly normal, while the people see the outcome more clearly, and the viewpoint has changed from pessimism to optimism and confidence of victory.

The same cheerfulness is in evidence in New York, he said where there is better organization, co-ordination, and more efficient preparation. Movement of troops towards the seaboard has increased 100 per cent, during the last month, and the increase is more noticeable to the Eastern people than to those in the interior, so the one great impression which one gets in Washington and New York, according to Doctor McVey, is that the government has made enormous advances in the conduct of the war in the last four months.

BOLES WILL DIRECT SOLDIER ATHLETICS

Athletic activities of the 400 drafted men who arrived this week on the campus will be in charge of Coach Boles. The men will engage in baseball, volleyball, basketball and track contest and will also be trained in football and gymnasium work.

It is not known as yet how much leisure the men will have and no definite arrangements have been made. Half of the men will receive their athletic training in the morning and half in the afternoon. It is not known whether they will be divided into companies and "Daddy" says they will have to select their teams and name them later in order to avoid confusion.

The basketball contests will be held on the old Mulligan lot, the volleyball games in Stoll Field, just to the right of the campus gate, and the baseball games will be played on the regular diamond. The director will endeavor to arrange a contest for every Saturday afternoon, either in baseball, track, or volleyball.

Kentucky's season of baseball will be over May 26 and the soldiers will not interfere with any games of the Wildcats.

with irrepressible youthful spirits, are interesting characters. Gloria forgets her training and falls in love with a mere man. Mrs. Clandon meets her former husband, but everything comes out nicely in the end.

The male lead, that of Valentine, will be taken by Miss Eliza Spurrier, who appeared in the role of Joanna Goodlak, in "Mice and Men", the play recently presented by the Strollers, the dramatic organization of which Miss Spurrier is president. Miss Freida Lemon, vice-president of the Strollers, and a member of last year's Stroller cast, will have the role of Mr. Bohun, and Miss Bertha Miller has been selected for another important male part, that of William, the waiter. Miss Virginia Helm Milner, one of the most attractive and popular students of the University, will appear as leading lady in the role of Miss Gloria Clandon.

Miss Elizabeth McGowan, in the role of Phil, is the embodiment of the youthful conceit and mischief of a boy of seventeen; Mrs. F. O. Mayes, as Dolly, is his feminine counterpart. The most amusing character is the waiter, who appears opportunely to interrupt whenever affairs are at a critical stage. Miss Bertha Miller, who took the part of "Mammy Judy," in last year's Philosophian play, takes this part with unusual skill.

Miss Alma Bolser, in another character part, Mr. Crampton, displays a marked histrionic ability. Miss Bolser took the part of Malvolio in Twelfth Night, which the Philosophian gave two years ago. In this role Miss Bolser was considered one of the best of the cast.

The other members of the cast are Mr. Fergus Crampton, Miss Alma Bolser; Mr. Finch McComas, Miss Louise Mayer; Mrs. Lanfrey Clandon, Miss Louise Will; Philip Clandon, Miss Elizabeth McGowan; Dorothy Clandon, Mrs. F. O. Mayes; The Maid, Miss Bernice Young; A Waiter, Miss Virginia Croft.

KEEL PULLIAM CHASING HUN PLANES IN FRANCE

Every One Confident of Outcome Says U. K. Graduate

MACHINE IS RIDDLE

The Lexington Herald Monday published extracts of a letter from Captain Keeling G. Pulliam, '15, who has recovered from an injury received early in the year and is now on active service in France. The article follows:

"Everyone is superbly confident of the outcome, and we are all doing our very best," is the way Keeling G. Pulliam, captain United States Aviation Corps with the American Expeditionary Forces, (somewhere in France), expresses the opinion of the boys "over there" in regard to the outcome of the present battle in Picardy. Everyone is working for victory and all are confident, seems to be the French thought.

"With personal reference deleted Captain Pulliam's letter is as follows:

"Headquarters Field No. 3

"In the Field, France,

April 3, 1918.

"Dear Father and Mother: I am utilizing a short period of rest to drop you a few lines, the first chance to rest that we have had in about ten days.

"The newspapers of above date will give you more news of what we are undergoing and doing than would be possible for me to get through the censor. Sufficient to say that we are all on the go with 24-hour union days and catching sleep whenever there is a lull that permits it.

"Flying, as you will know by the time this reaches you, has done more than its share to stop the Hun, and airplanes are being used and maneuvered as cavalry were not long ago. The machines act as what we call "contour chasers", and fly about 20 meters (50 feet) in the air, driving straight at the Hun, sweeping him with machine gun fire and dropping bombs in his masses of infantry, throwing them into confusion and stopping his advance.

"The work of this kind is, as you will realize, quite thrilling and fatiguing in the extreme when carried out for periods of sometimes as long as six hours per day in the air. Almost all of us who return have our machines riddled with bullets fired at us from below.

"The French aviators are the heroes of the fight. They are absolutely fearless, often ramming a Hun in mid-air when they run out of ammunition. Of course, both flyers are killed, but it is often done, and the enemy is now at a stage where he turns tail whenever anyone dives at him.

"Everyone is superbly confident of the outcome, and we are all doing our very best."

however, arrangements had been made, whereby every member of the camp ate as much as he desired of a steaming hot dinner, "the kind that satisfies," prepared by the expert cooks engaged by Captain Royden.

The draftees, a congenial, likable group of young men from "sunny Tennessee," are in civilian clothes and will probably remain so for several weeks, as the matter of properly clothing the men in uniforms is proving to be one of Captain Royden's most trying problems.

Captain H. N. Royden and F. Paul Anderson, Dean of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, who will have charge of the men while stationed here said yesterday that they were highly pleased with the appearance of the men and that they presumed them able to accomplish all that was expected of them.

Many improvements have been made about the fair grounds for the comfort of the men. The mess hall of the men is in the old lunch and soft drink booth on the ground floor of the grandstand. It has been remodeled and cleaned thoroughly.

Inspection of the grounds and buildings by Captain J. Knight, of the Department of Inspection of the War Department, he stated, revealed everything in good condition and ready.

Preliminary plans were mapped out yesterday for the schedule of the men and it is probable that the following will be used:

The men will arise at reveille, which will be sounded at 5:30 o'clock; breakfast at 5:45, 30 minutes being allowed for the meal; 30 minutes for setting up exercises or drill.

At 6:45 the companies will form in line and march to the University to begin work at 7 o'clock; at 12 o'clock they will quit work, return to the fair grounds for dinner and then return to the University, arriving in time to begin work at 1 o'clock.

At 4 o'clock technical work will cease and the men will return to the fair grounds, where they will drill until 5:30 o'clock. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock. After supper the men will be free until they retire for the night.

Arrangements are under way, in charge of J. E. Johnson, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., to have a series of talks made to the men by partment will be devoted entirely to neys and ministers of the city on religious and educational subjects.

Officers' headquarters have been established in the buildings at the entrance to the fair grounds and the men were checked up there yesterday as they arrived.

Shops and the armory at the University are ready for the visitors, according to a statement of the instructors yesterday. The armory has been divided into five shops for the training of the men in automobile work where the machines will be torn down and reassembled by the men.

Radio and buzzer work will be carried on in the civil engineering building, where telephone, telegraph and buzzer instruments have been installed.

The shops of the mechanical department will be devoted entirely to

MISS SWEENEY ISSUES TRIED WAR COOK BOOK

Home Economics Department Says All Recipes Are Successful

COST TO BE NOMINAL

Miss Mary Sweeney, head of the Home Economics Department of the University and chairman of Food Production and Home Economics, Kentucky Division, Council of National Defense, has completed the compilation of a "War Cook Book," which is destined to be a real boon to the housekeepers of this and other States.

Every recipe in the book has been tried out by the Home Economics Department of the University and has been pronounced a success.

Miss Sweeney begins her book with a patriotic appeal which consists of a survey of the national and international food supply and emphasizes the vital need for the patriotic conservation and scientific substitution of foods.

The Woman's Council of National Defense of Fayette county is planning to introduce this cook book in the homes of its members, knowing that the judgment of Miss Sweeney will be the best that can be had on the subject. The small amount of 15c will be charged for each copy of the book. This is merely to defray the expenses of publication.

the use of the drafted men and the students now using them will be transferred to another part of the campus. The junior drawing room has also been converted into a classroom for the automobile classes.

The campus of the University will only be used for technical training and the drill and other work will be carried on at the fair grounds.

Control of the camp will be in charge of Captains H. N. Royden, of the University, and J. W. Harding, of the United States army. Other officers located at the camp are Captain Michael Plaut. First Lieutenants Paul W. Ernsberger and Orville P. Squires and Second Lieutenants Lyle C. Brand and William B. Marxson.

Company B moved its tents to the Fair Grounds Tuesday afternoon to do guard duty there and to instruct the men in guard duty. A tent has been erected behind the power house, just in front of the library, which, when the flooring is laid by two squads of men, will be used as another automobile shop. A cadet is guarding the tent.

"Already the sign, "contagious disease—keep out," has been erected over a part of Camp Buell, as one man, awoke Wednesday with mumps, and the twelve men bunking with him were placed under quarantine. The ten trucks are being used by the men, with cadet officers in charge, to haul the supplies.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sanford, Jr., announce the birth of a daughter, April 23. Mr. Sanford was a graduate of the Law College in 1914. He was the champion long distance runner in track, and was known as "Piggy" Sanford. Mrs. Sanford was Miss Margaret Cassidy before her marriage, a student in the College of Agriculture.

INTERESTING SLIDES
AT LITERARY SOCIETY

A very interesting lecture was given by Mr. Elam at the Horace Mann Literary Society May 2, on "Europe as I Saw It." Mr. Elam took the audience with him from Liverpool, over the greater part of Europe and Turkey. The lecture was illustrated by slides and interesting views were shown of Italy, Switzerland and Germany. The remarks concerning the cathedrals of Europe were of especial interest at this time when everyone is watching with horror their destruction by the Huns.

It was decided to have a social meeting May 16, and present the prizes to the groups having the best attendance records there. Five dollars will be given as first prize and an Annual as second. Every group has been doing good work and much interest has been shown by the members. The next meeting will decide the winning team, as the contest has been close.

TO HEAR DEAN SPEAK

The program of the Agricultural Society Monday evening, May 13, at 7:30 o'clock in the lecture room at the Agricultural College, promises to be one of especial interest. The Agricultural Society believes in "saving the best until last," according to one of its members.

This program will be the last of the year and Dean Thomas P. Cooper will be the speaker for the evening. All the Home Economics students are cordially invited to attend, as the Ags want to share this "good thing" with them.

LAST UNION MEETINGS
FULL OF ENTHUSIASM

The members of the Union Literary Society are displaying an unusual amount of enthusiasm these last meetings. The members are responding to the call of the program committee readily and the society is especially anxious that all members be present at the last few meetings so this enthusiasm may last thru the summer and that the meetings may begin next September with an even greater interest.

The program for Saturday consists of a talk on "The Camps and Cannons erected by the government last year" by R. E. Davis, "The Thrift Campaign" by H. K. Smith, a reading by R. C. McBrayer, "Current Events" by Ed Dabney. Bob Mitchell will conduct the devotional exercises.

UNIV. TENNIS TEAM
IN ACTION SATURDAY

Kentucky's first tennis match will be held on the home courts Saturday afternoon at 2:30, with a team from Georgetown College.

Kentucky's lineup has not been arranged yet, but Zerfoss and Anderson will probably play in the singles and Campbell and Anderson in the doubles. They express confidence of winning and are anxious to add other laurels to U. K.'s crown by making a state championship team. Georgetown's lineup is not known.

MEN WILL BE GUESTS AT EVENING MEETING

The Woman's Club of the University will hold its regular meeting at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. T. C. Noe, 231 East Maxwell street.

The club will have for guests at the meeting the men of the faculty of the University.

President McVey will give a talk. Mrs. L. L. Dantzler and Miss Rowe will each contribute a group of songs and Mrs. J. J. Tigert several piano selections.

ALPHA ZETA HOLDS
INFORMAL MEETING

Round-table discussion featured an informal meeting held by Alpha Zeta fraternity at the Agricultural Building Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. Plans of the honorary fraternity for next year were discussed and will be shortly put into execution.

In addition to the active members of the fraternity those present were: T. P. Cooper, George Roberts, T. R. Bryant, P. E. Karraker, E. S. Good, E. J. Gott, M. C. James and W. D. Nickolls.
